

SUBPART A - PROCEDURES

WI 511.05

§WI 511.05 Design checking and review.

- (a) The individual approving designs or construction plans is responsible for insuring that the documents have been checked. The approver may perform the checking or accept the checking of another individual.

All practices or jobs will be checked. Class I and II jobs may be checked by the same person preparing the design. All other Class jobs will be checked by someone other than the designer.

The person performing the check need not have job approval authority for the practice but must be qualified to examine the job parameters listed in 511.05(a).
